Global Emerging Markets Leaders Sustainability Strategy

About Stewart Investors

We are an active, long-only equity investment business with stewardship and sustainability at the heart of our investment philosophy and culture since 1988. As a team, the Sustainable Funds Group have been managing explicit sustainability portfolios since 2005 and a Global Emerging Markets Sustainability All-Cap strategy since 2009.

Due to capacity constraints of the All-Cap strategy and strong demand and desire to offer clients an emerging markets sustainability solution, we launched the Global Emerging Markets Leaders Sustainability Strategy in April 2020. This strategy is now available to Australian clients. Leaders simply means that the strategy is focused on companies with a market cap over USD1 billion.

Investment aim

To generate long-term, risk-adjusted returns for our clients by investing in the shares of high-quality companies that are particularly well positioned to contribute to, and benefit from, sustainable development.

Investment philosophy

- > We are stewards. Our role is to allocate society's capital to productive uses, in accordance with our Hippocratic Oath.
- > We are long term. Our time horizon is measured in years, not weeks, and we value companies accordingly.
- > We invest only in companies contributing to a more sustainable future. We engage constructively as owners to help companies on their sustainability journeys.
- > We invest only in high-quality companies. We invest in companies with exceptional cultures, strong franchises and resilient financials.
- > We believe capital preservation is important for capital growth. We define risk as the possibility of the permanent loss of client capital.

This philosophy is proven across strategies and business cycles for nearly four decades.

Sustainability in emerging markets

We seek to invest in high-quality companies that produce necessary products and services in a responsible manner. We believe that incorporating sustainability considerations into our stock picking helps us in two ways.

- > Developing countries will not be able to follow the same resource-intensive and consumption-driven model of development taken by today's developed countries. We are looking for companies that are well positioned to meet the challenge of sustainable development. We have strong conviction that such companies face fewer risks and are better placed to deliver positive long-term returns to shareholders.
- > Sustainability is a particularly useful approach to gauge the quality of companies. We believe managers and owners who treat their employees, the environment and society at large well are more likely to allow minority shareholders to participate in the success of the business; in contrast we believe those who are willing to cut corners are likely to act in unscrupulous ways if given the opportunity. Incorporating sustainability in this way aids our bottom-up stock picking process. In emerging markets, insisting on robust governance is crucial to risk mitigation since corporate governance standards are often poor.

While we don't carry out negative screening, the output of our bottom-up approach means that we do not invest in companies with material exposure to harmful products including weapons, tobacco, alcohol, gambling and fossil fuels. Nor do we believe we need to invest in such companies to deliver the long-term, sustainable returns our clients expect. Visit our website to view our position on harmful and controversial products and services and our climate change statement.

Top 10 holdings - high conviction

We have a bottom-up approach and aim to invest only in well-stewarded, high-quality companies with sustainability at the heart of all investment considerations. Our portfolios are high conviction (top 10 holdings typically 30%-50%) and are completely benchmark agnostic.

Performance objective – capital protection and growth

Our investment philosophy focuses on delivering strong absolute returns over cycles. This focus means that we define risk as the loss of clients' capital rather than in terms of deviation from any benchmark index. As a result, our performance is likely to lag steeply rising markets, but deliver better results in falling markets. This approach has served clients well over time and over cycles.

Given that the Global Emerging Markets Leaders Sustainability strategy is a newer strategy we have also included the performance of the Global Emerging Markets Sustainability - All-Cap - strategy for historical context of the wider investment strategy, team and approach.

Source: Stewart Investors and FactSet as at 31 March 2022 in AUD. Data shown for the Stewart Investors Global Emerging Markets Sustainability and Global Emerging Markets Leaders Sustainability Composites and MSCI Emerging Markets Index. Investments in funds that make up the Composite may produce different performance returns to the Composite returns. Composite performance data is calculated on a total return basis and gross of tax. Performance figures do not reflect the deduction of investment fees and expenses. A client's return will be reduced by the effect of investment fees and expenses. If a client placed AUD100,000 under management and a hypothetical gross return of 10% was achieved, the investment assets before the effect of fees and expenses would have grown to AUD259,374 in 10 years. However, if fees and expenses to the value of 1% were incurred, investment assets would have grown to AUD234,573, or an annual compounded rate of 8.9%. This information is provided for illustrative purposes to demonstrate Stewart Investors' activity within the strategies for the periods shown. It is not a recommendation or solicitation to purchase or invest in any fund. Differences between fund, strategy or client-specific constraints and those of a similarly managed mandate would affect results. Outperformance shown versus the MSCI Emerging Markets Index. Index returns are shown on a total return basis and gross of tax. Since launch relates to inception of the composites on 1 March 2009 and 1 April 2020 respectively.
